

A LITTLE MAGIC

Lyrics and music by Mark Osier

Do you remember when we were little we would read the fairy tales of dragons, unicorns, and elves and knights that couldn't fail of maidens fair in towers bold, of minstrels who would play
And always there was magic to help to win the day

But now we have grown up and the other grown-ups say
There's no time now for magic - you must work, not run and play
Magic, it is evil and can only trouble bring Besides you should be old enough to know there's no such thing

But I have learned they're wrong and that the magic still is real
It's living still today among both farms and towers of steel
And those who are too quick to judge I fear they just don't see
That courage, love, and beauty are all magic things to me

I see the magic in the skies and in the sun so bright
It's in the moon above and in the stars that shine by night
You can see it in the flowers and hear it when birds sing
But my favorite sort of magic is the magic that you bring

Now magic's not too hard to find if you'll just look a while
You can see it in the love a mother feels for her child
There's magic in a smile, you see, and in a helping hand
And maybe with some magic peace will live within our land

And some say there is magic in the songs I play and sing
And some say that's why happy songs can give the joy they bring
But some say there's no magic, but I know that can't be true
For I can feel the magic in the love I feel for you

I remember moonlit walks with you beneath the starry skies
And sighing as I lost myself within your piercing eyes
And though we are now far apart and I can't hold you tight
Through the magic we call dreams I can be with you tonight

And though life is no fairy tale, and I am not a knight
And you're not in a tower, and there's no dragon I can fight
My music and my love will reach out to you through the night
And with a little magic everything will be all right
