

LOKI

Lyrics by Mark Osier
TTA: Lodi by Credence Clearwater Revival

Couple hundred years ago
We were children, don't you know
Half brothers both sons of Odin
And into gods we'd grow
I grew strong, and he grew mean
And we never were close friends
Odin - I'm fighting Loki again

Now I'm the god of thunder
I call lightning from the skies
My hammer smites all my enemies
And gives me the power to fly
But he's got powers of sorcery
He's trying to bring my end
Odin - I'm fighting Loki again

From the golden spires of Asgard
Or along the rainbow bridge
Valhalla or Hel or Jotunheim
Or Midgard where the humans live
We never know where he'll strike next
Or how, or why or when
Odin - I'm fighting Loki again

Sometimes I'll fight with giants
Or rumble with many trolls
Or battle the Midgard serpent
And Ragnarok and roll
We all know the day is coming
(But) I'll be busy until then
Odin - I'm fighting Loki again
