

WHY DON'T BARBARIAN WOMEN WEAR CLOTHES?

Lyrics and music by Mark Osier

Intro: E B A B C#m A B

I came back home the other day from a killer filking con
But when I walked through my front door something strange was going on My mother was watching the Sci-Fi Channel on our big screen TV
And she raised up her head as I walked in and she said this to me

You've talked for years of fantasy and the stuff you call sci-fi
Well I've just watched for three days straight and found it pretty dry
You know I just don't understand what in this stuff you see
So have a seat and rest your feet and answer these for me

CHORUS

How come you never see a Stormtrooper's face
And how do those blown-up ships go boom in outer space
Why do the Musketeers run around in panty hose
And why don't barbarian women wear clothes

These scientists build big machines that just would never work
And all the women jump in bed with that captain guy named Kirk
The heroes kill ten thousand foes, but they don't even break a nail
And the evil guys wear black or beards every time without fail

CHORUS

Why does Godzilla only pick on Tokyo
How does that Kenny kid get killed in every show
Why don't the heroes speak in poetry or prose
And why don't barbarian women wear clothes

Well I thought on it a little while, and I couldn't tell her why
The answers kept eluding me, and I wished that I could die
I just about had given up, I thought she had me whipped
But then the answer came to me - Look mom... it's in the script!

CHORUS

That's why you never see a Stormtrooper's face (except the prequels)
That's how those blown-up ships can go boom in outer space
That's why the Musketeers run around in panty hose
And that's why barbarian women...
Don't wear no clothes
